Talk: Embedded Microcontroller Flowmeter Control System for a Solar Water Heater

Presented by UWEC Physics Senior Josh Baker

Thursday | November 16

3:30 PM – 4:30 PM

Phillips Science Hall, Room 117

The background of the entire image is a long-exposure photograph of a starry night sky. It features numerous curved, concentric star trails in shades of white, blue, and purple, suggesting a long exposure taken from a fixed point on Earth. The trails are most prominent in the upper half of the image and curve downwards towards the bottom right.
